It will be sometime tomorrow or perhaps even Wednesday morning before there are more comments to code. Marcia Cash of FWS will transfer the next batch of comments - well over 100,000 - from regs.gov to DiscoverText this afternoon, and it will then take some time for the DiscoverText computer to sort out the exact and near-duplicate form letters so those won't have to be individually reviewed.

More coders are always welcome!

Hi Randy

I'm on standby for any more coding.

Also - would you like some more volunteers from OIA?

Tanya
