Thanks for the guidance.

You are right - that means they are opposed to the effort (even if they don't understand it)

Hi Randal:

I'm see a lot of keep public land public. I think that means they are opposed to review, but am I overthinking this? I am interpreting what I think they mean. I wonder if I should be coding this as un-codeable?

Could you give me a little guidance on this?

Thanks...
Ester

The system is ready for everyone to begin coding.

A couple of things to keep in mind - 1, while I have removed the overwhelming majority of the nearly-identical letters by the group coding approach I used for the last round, you will still see some nearly identical letters. That is because many of the comments are variations on a common theme. It does not mean you are coding the same comment twice. The system will automatically deliver to you the next available uncoded item, and when all items are coded, it will say something like no more items to code.

You will not get an item already coded.

To start, log on, hit :coding", "code a dataset", and the first comment should appear.

Good luck, and contact me with anything unusual, if possible copying the heading or unusual item and pasting it into an email.
