Yes, with Marcia's help. I unfortunately had a flurry of calls and need to go visit people here in the building immediately after we finished for 3 hours, and so need to call Marcia to re-teach me what you did this morning. I have now coded the 3 groups I created yesterday (21,000), did the next search using only uncoded records (another call to Marcia) and that turned up another 6,000. About to code those. Will send an email at the end of the day with the numbers.

I am now sending a calendar invite for the training tomorrow at 10, and a strong reminder to the majority of the team who have not yet responded. Have you sent the invitation to the go-to-meeting site, or are you waiting on me to send the previous before you do that?

The same in all systems. I am on the phone with another customer at the moment.

Also, under the contract, do I have access to the DOI version - or would that eliminate one for the DOI staff?

Didn't see that option. 50 was the biggest number.

Is it different in the DOI version?

Yes, you can change the list view to 1000.

Is there a way to select 1000 rows at a time when bulk coding a dataset?

I'm looking in the FWS version to help Randy and it looks like the most number of rows that can be coded at once is 50.

Any way to do more than 50?

Thanks.
