

Campbell Creek Science Center

Facility Rentals

The Campbell Creek Science Center is located on 730 acres of public land known as the BLM Campbell Tract. The 10,500 square foot facility houses a classroom, multipurpose room, and kitchen in a retreat-like setting surrounded by quiet forests, a rippling creek, and a network of multiple use trails in the heart of Anchorage.

The Science Center is available for rental by schools, non-profit, government, and commercial organizations for programs and events that focus on scientific and environmental topics, education, natural resources, outdoor recreation, and health and human services. Reservations are required and fees are charged to help defray operating costs. The Campbell Creek Science Center is available for full day, half day, evening, and weekend rentals.

Opportunities for Rental Groups

Ice Breakers

Let our staff "break the ice" at the beginning of your meeting or training. Participants will warm up to each other with these fun, energetic activities. Call to confirm fees and check instructor availability.

Meeting Energizer

Looking for an energetic break during your meeting or training? Give us a call to plan a short nature hike, snowshoe adventure, team-building activity, or other option, to meet your needs. Call to check on fees and instructor availability.
