Joe,

I am out today as my neck is all jacked up. However, I am quite certain, meaning I just looked on Google Earth to verify, that the line that provides service to Quintero is overhead and across BLM land from Castle Hot Springs Road west to the development. [REDACTED] is wrong on his BLM accusation. Distribution inside Quintero I think may be under ground but that would have likely been a choice of the developer or some ordinance on the private land. I can look into it more when I am back in the office.

Thanks,
Richard

Hi, Richard, hope your holidays are going well.

Do you guys at APS know anything about the Quintero distribution lines? As you can see, [REDACTED] is making accusations about BLM that I believe is wrong...

Thanks, Joe

Rem, yes that's exactly right. The Quintero lines would have been small diameter Distribution lines that are normally buried in subdivisions. This project would be extremely large Transmission lines that cannot be buried. However, either way, I'm certain that it wasn't BLM that "forced Quintero to bury their lines", since it's private lands. It could be a local ordinance or covenants that required such...

Kathy: The question of if BLM insisted that Quintero owners bury their transmission lines will have to wait until Jim Andersen returns, which will be January 2. Of course, even if Quintero did bury their lines, the lines would have been much smaller than 500/230kV lines.

Jim: Let us know. Thanks.

Jim,

Do you know anything about the Quintero issue of BLM forcing the owners to bury their transmission lines? See [REDACTED] message.

We have been receiving several emails from [REDACTED] with lots of accusations. I have no knowledge of this and since I am at home until the 7th, can't look into any of this.

If you know about this, maybe you could forward what you know to us and I will then do whatever research is necessary when I return.

Thanks Jim!

Dear Joe,

By the way-----I have been told that the BLM -forced Quintero-----forced-----them to bury their lines as it fronted BLM and or was very close to BLM land and at a cost of some 8 to 10 million dollars. ??????

DID THE BLM REALLY FORCE THE QUINTERO GOLF CLUB TO BURY THEIR LINES AT A COST OF SOME 8 TO 120 MILLION DOLLARS ??????????????????????

IF THIS IS TRUE-----THAN YOU HAVE TO FORCE APS TO BURY THEIR LINES THAT ARE ON BLM LAND FOR SOME 9 MILES----- IF YOUR PROPOSAL RINGS TRUE EVENTUALLY .

THIS TOO IS INFORMATION THAT WAS NOT BROUGHT OUT AT ANY HEARINGS IN THE PAST-----SO AGAIN A CALL FOR NEW HEARINGS IS MORE THAN JUSTIFIED.

Please let me know who forced these lines to be buried ?????? thank you

There is a world of information, lies, lying, misinformation, false information and hidden information that is just now surfacing-----WHICH INCLUDES THE CITY OF PEORIA AND THEIR ELECTED OFFICIALS-----Ms. Carlat especially who will not answer anything of provide any information at all

----- NEW HEARINGS MUST BE HELD

My best,

[REDACTED]
