

Visual Resource Management

Visual resources are defined as the visible physical features on a landscape (e.g., land, water, vegetation, animals, structures, and other features). A Visual Resource Inventory determines the quality of the visual resources and Visual Resource Management manages visual resources by categorizing them into management types (classes).

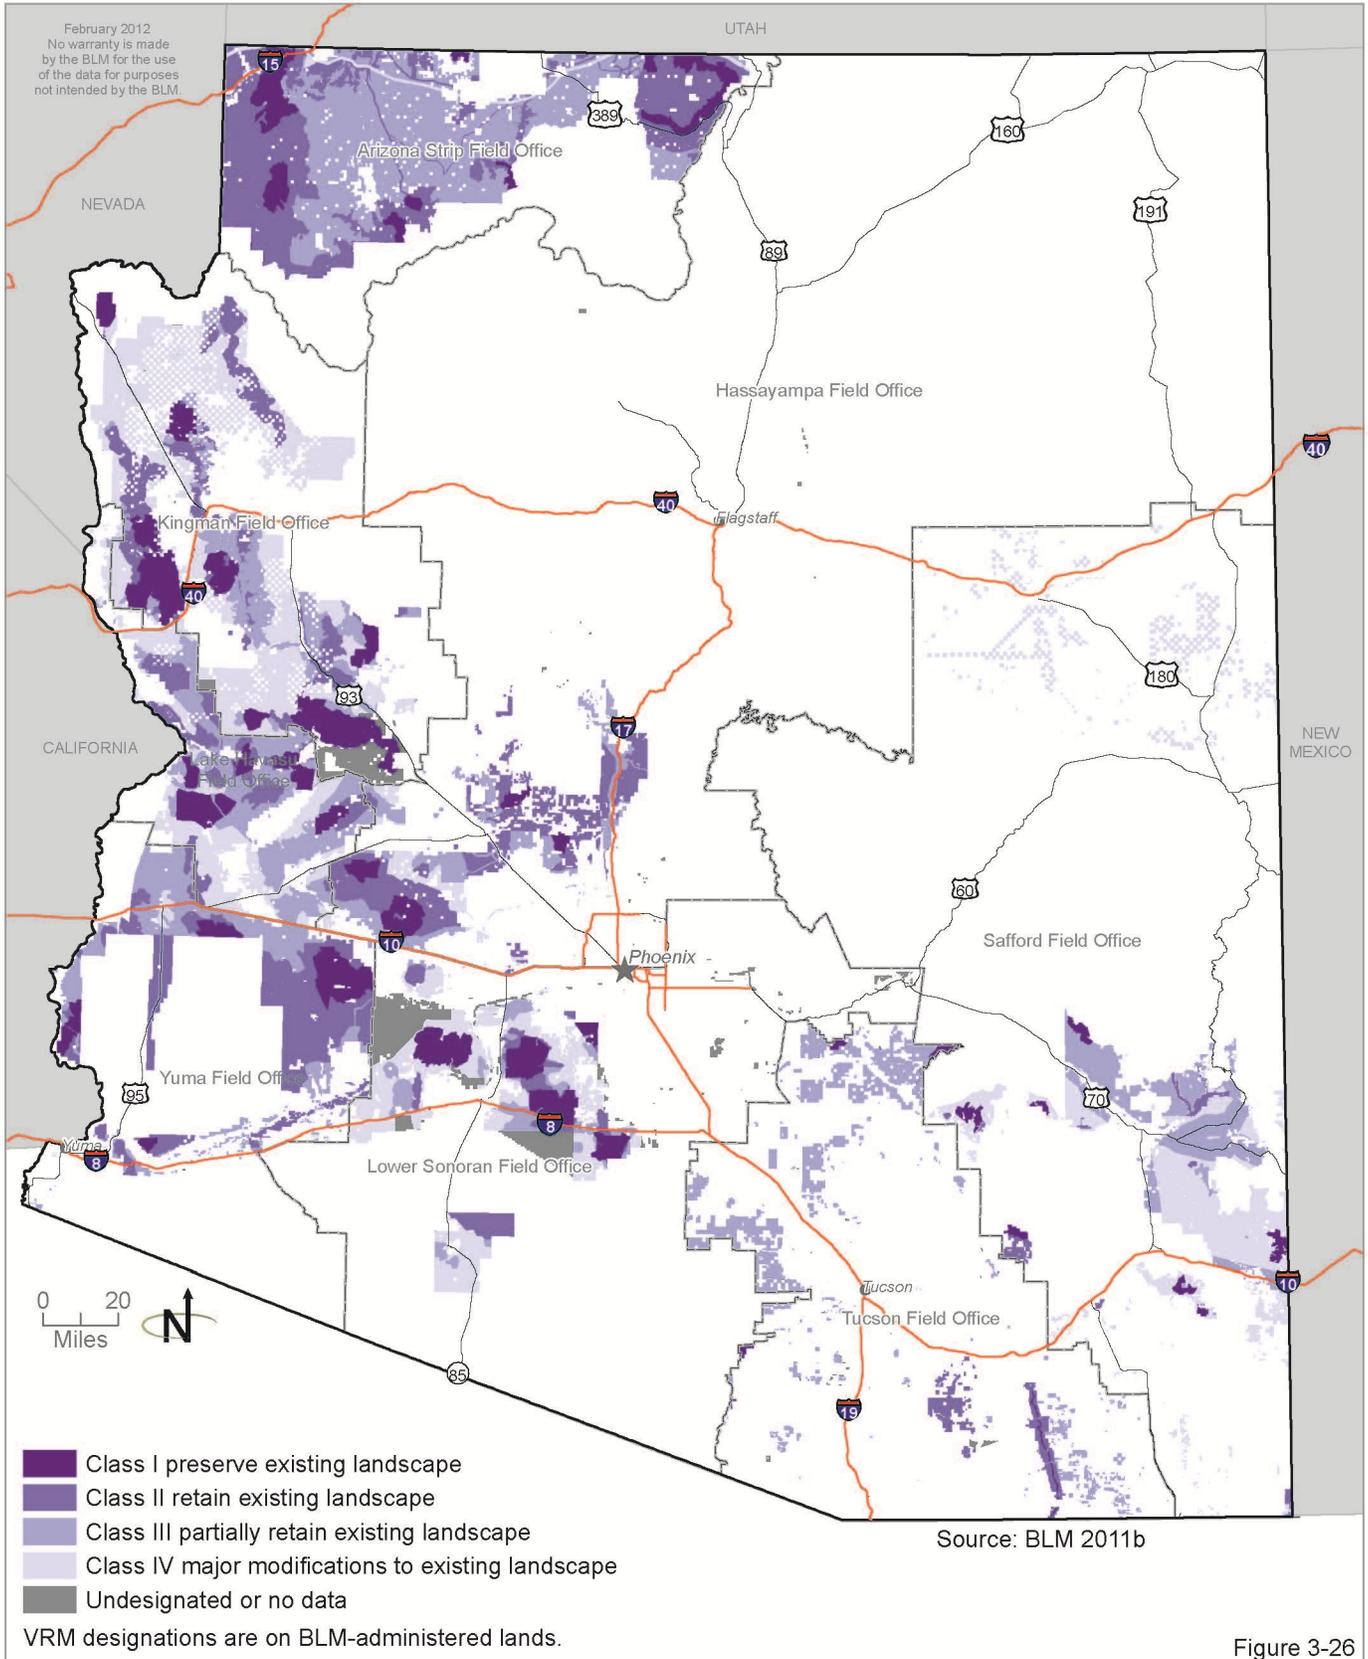

Figure 3-26