

Putting a Lid on It

In-house cleaning of dune toilets keeps program costs down.

We spend your hard-earned dollars wisely.

BLM staff took over the big job of cleaning the 61 vault toilets at the dunes this past season. By cancelling the toilet cleaning contract and using both seasonal and volunteer employees, the cost of this service decreased to $33,445 from the $109,267 spent in 2012. This change in the way we do business helped put a lid on the rising cost of dune maintenance.

BLM staff provide additional services:

- Daily cleaning service during weekends.
- Repair of broken door handles, locks and vandalism damage, also includes painting.
- Installation of additional toilet paper holders.
- Use of large magnets (see image) to pick up nails and screws around camp areas.
