To Whom It May Concern:

We are writing to you to protest a potential auction of property near Lewisville Lake to be used for natural gas drilling. Considering the potential for earthquake damage from fracking is not proven, but certainly suspicious. My wife and I are also concerned about the potential of damage to the Lewisville Lake dam.

Most importantly, we are concerned about the huge potential for water contamination. "The City of Lewisville's drinking water maintains its rating of "Superior Public Water Supply," the highest rating given by the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality, by meeting and exceeding state and federal standards."¹ My wife and I would like to continue to see this quality maintained. Have any studies been done on the potential contamination of this reservoir which serves so many people? If not, this should happen before any proposed auction. Lewisville Lake is one of six of the Trinity River's prime reservoirs.

Please reconsider this auction. What would you want for your neighborhood, for your family and friends? Let's think of fresh water as more important than natural gas. We invite your response.

Yours,

Michael & Marylin Dubrick
