SNWA cannot be allowed to suck the water from Nevada via the suggested SNWA water pipeline. We have lived here since 1969 and enjoy the travel and family outings in Nevada. Eagle Valley, Spring Valley State Park and the Ely are are priceless experiences and we are proud to say our three grown sons remember the camping experiences there. They now share the same with their families. We remember when Pahrnagat was never dry, but not the case anymore, with Pahrnagat south at times becomes a dry lakebed environment. We must all learn to live within our means which includes the water usage. Like the federal government, when you cannot control your own destiny and live within your means, take it out on the populace. Money hungry SNWA does not have the right to drain areas north of Las Vegas and definitely does not represent the people of Nevada.
