RESTORING NATURE'S BALANCE

NATIVE PLANT GROWERS ASSN.

Mission Statement

The mission of the Intermountain Native Plant Growers Association is to promote the use of native plants in creating beautiful, sustainable, regionally appropriate home, business, and public landscapes. Members associated with universities, botanical centers, public gardens, water conservation districts, native plant nurseries, and native seed companies collaborate to strengthen the native plant industry and enhance the availability of unique new plant offerings. Through this collaboration, the INPGA is positioned to become the predominant source of information in the Intermountain West regarding the value, utility, and availability of native plants.

Vision 2012

- Educate the public on the uses of native plants
- Increase the visibility of native plants within government organizations and commercial landscapers
- Provide greater access to information on native plants.
- Disseminate more information on landscape water conservation
- Encourage using native plants to rebuild native habitats.

Native Plants in Land Restoration

Educating the public on land restoration with natives to:

- Provide food and habitat for wildlife
- Reduce invasion of natural areas with exotic plants
- Promote self-sustaining restoration by using adapted natives that will naturally propagate themselves
- Encourage consumers to hire landscape contractors familiar with the use of natives to restore habitats
