NOTICE OF FIELD MANAGER'S FINAL DECISION
Kemmerer Field Office Crossing/Trailing Permits
DOI-BLM-WY-D090-EA13-18

Dear Interested Parties:

The Bureau of Land Management (BLM) Kemmerer Field Office (KFO) has completed the South Trail Livestock Trailing Environmental Assessment (EA).

The EA analyzes the impacts of livestock trailing and crossings on BLM land in Uinta County, Wyoming, and is available online at www.blm.gov/wy/st/en/info/NEPA/documents/kfo/trailing.html. Hard copies are also available at the address above or by calling the KFO at 307-828-4500.

Introduction

Qualified applicants, consisting of permittees and non-permittees, frequently request to trail or cross livestock across Bureau of Land Management (BLM) administered lands for a variety of reasons. These reasons primarily include, (1) moving livestock to and from grazing allotments on BLM-administered lands, and (2) moving livestock to and from grazing allotments on state, private, or other federally managed lands. Livestock operators must obtain a crossing (trailing) permit from the appropriate BLM jurisdiction prior to trailing livestock on public lands. Recent administrative appeals and a subsequent settlement agreement have re-emphasized that BLM must analyze and disclose to the public the effects of permitted trailing activities as required by the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA).

As stated in Title 43, Code of Federal Regulations (CFR), subpart 4130.6-3, Crossing Permits:

“A crossing permit may be issued by the authorized officer to any applicant showing a need to cross the public land or other land under Bureau of Land Management control, or both, with livestock for proper and lawful purposes. A temporary use authorization for trailing livestock shall contain terms and conditions for the temporary grazing use that will occur as deemed necessary by the authorized officer to achieve the objectives of this part.”

The CFRs do not define “trailing” or “crossing” and seem to use the terms interchangeably. However, for the purposes of the EA and this decision, these terms are defined differently. The term “crossing” is a single use event that generally does not occur on established trails. A crossing is considered an event that occurs within eight hours with no overnight camps. Typically, a crossing is from private ground to private ground crossing a BLM allotment with the permission of the permit holder, to move from one pasture to another. Authorizations for crossings will be required and payment due three days prior to crossing, similar to trailing. This “service charge” will apply according to CFR 4130.8-3. Where “crossings” occur from one pasture to another within a grazing allotment or between adjacent grazing allotments (or between their private or state leased property) where the permittee has grazing permits, additional fees are not required. However, where the operator crosses an allotment authorized by another user, an application must be made.

The term “trailing” is an overnight event with established campsites and watering stops on established trails, which occurs over multiple days and crosses one or multiple allotments, using the South Trail system.

This Final Decision refers to both trailing and crossings.

Background

Presently, the Kemmerer Field Office (KFO) administers 58 grazing allotments that intersect the South Trail system one-mile buffer analysis area. Livestock grazing use occurs within the KFO generally from May through October with some winter use; trailing usually takes from several days to two weeks. Timing of trailing events may vary annually based on factors such as forage production, weather, resource conditions, wildfire, and individual livestock operations. The approximate 237-mile South Trail system consists of multiple trail corridors that cross state land (8.8 miles), private land (116.5 miles), U.S. Forest Service (USFS) land (1.3 miles) and/or BLM administered land (110.1 miles).

On December 18, 2012 a scoping letter was mailed to the interested publics concerning the issuance of trailing permits. Fifty comments were received from the following ten interested parties: Ed Feeley, Brady Thornock, Mike and Tara Oaks, Lee Kreutzer, Truman Julian, John Emmerich, Pat Netherly, Jason Fearneyhough, Mike Sims, and Jonathan Ratner (see Appendix 2 of the Environmental Assessment [EA] as incorporated by reference for comment letters received). All comments received were considered during the preparation of the EA.

Decision

The Bureau of Land Management (BLM) Kemmerer Field Office’s Final Decision is to approve the Proposed Action as described in the EA #WYD090-EA13-18. Trailing and crossing permits would be approved as applied for with terms and conditions as described below. The Proposed Action will authorize up to the historic maximum annual trailing use levels of 41,682 livestock or 1,149 AUMs annually. Additional trailing above historic use levels would be considered on a case-by-case basis and additional NEPA would be required.

Mitigation Measures

The Proposed Action has focused analyses on the importance of protecting sensitive areas within the one mile buffer in sections designated for overnight use. The following guideline #8 from the Kemmerer Field Office Policy Statement on Livestock Trailing (ROD, 2.2.1.2 Guidelines for Livestock Trailing) will be provided to anyone issued a trailing permit:

The BLM may provide trailing applicants with a map showing where livestock camps will or will not be authorized. Livestock camps typically will not be authorized within ¼ mile of sensitive areas such as (but not limited to): recent fire locations, recent vegetation treatments, sensitive or endangered plant species habitat, riparian and wetland areas, sage grouse leks during the lekking period, national historic sites and some portions of the national historic trails.

BLM will mark the BLM property boundary on a three mile section of trail every ¼ mile on both sides of the trail in the Altamont and the Boilers Draw allotments, as in these areas the corridor is not obvious.

All authorized future ground disturbing activities in the Area of Potential Effect (APE) will comply with Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act (NHPA) and will be subject to appropriate cultural investigations prior to permit issuance, and will be analyzed under a separate and site specific NEPA document. The construction of new facilities, including fences or roads, would require a Class III cultural inventory. All adverse impacts would be mitigated prior to construction. The following stipulations are required to prevent inadvertent adverse impacts to cultural resources within the analysis area:

- Authorization is for standard livestock grazing only. Any related projects (e.g. fence lines, water pipelines and troughs, spring developments, reservoirs, etc.) and locations for feed supplements (e.g. “crystalyx” & other mineral feed supplements, etc.) within the allotment boundaries require separate authorizations.
- In order to protect the remaining trail corridors in the southern portion of the Carter Lease Allotment, all supplemental feed, salt/mineral blocks, or any other measures that would artificially concentrate livestock in one place should be kept to a minimum of ¼ mile from the Oregon-California Trail and related NHT variants, as shown on the attached map. This stipulation applies specifically to federal surface as listed in Tables 2 and 3 [documents available upon request]. In addition, adherence to this ¼ mile buffer zone is recommended along those segments of NHT located on non-federal surface. Alternatively, a Class III inventory could be conducted of any proposed salt lick site located within ¼ of the trail in order to minimize new impacts to the trail setting.
- In order to ensure that historic properties are not being impacted by livestock grazing and that the permittees are complying with this no impact agreement, periodic inspections of known historic properties will be required. In addition, Rangeland Management Specialists will keep the Cultural Resources staff fully informed concerning areas of livestock congregation and all areas subject to impacts. This information will be disclosed to the Cultural Resources staff members as these areas become known.
- If future grazing activity within the allotment boundaries should expose previously undetected cultural resources or if BLM determines that significant historic properties are being damaged by grazing activities within the allotment boundaries, the terms and conditions will be amended to protect any such historic properties until such time as protective barriers and/or mitigation of these adverse impacts can be conducted.

These measures will be incorporated into the standard and existing Terms and Conditions (below) of the trailing and crossing permits as they are authorized:

1. Livestock trailing is authorized under 43 CFR 4130.6-3. In order to trail livestock across federal land, an operator must have a valid trailing permit. Livestock trail use will be managed in accordance with the principles of multiple use and sustained yield.
2. Authorization of livestock trailing shall be at the discretion of the authorized officer.
3. Failure to comply with these terms and conditions may result in denial of further trailing use.
4. Trailing use must be applied for at least three business days prior to trail use. All applicable trailing and grazing bills must be paid in full before trailing will be authorized. Any livestock trailing prior to the date listed on the trailing permit, and prior to full payment of the trailing bill, will be considered unauthorized grazing use and will be dealt with according to the regulations set forth in 43 CFR 4150, including but not limited to an unauthorized use fee.

5. At the time of application, an operator must disclose their starting and ending trailing locations. Trailing will occur at the minimum rate of five miles per day per sheep. All garbage and dead sheep will be removed from the trail and disposed of in a landfill or on the applicant's private land.
6. Movement and timing of trailing of livestock will be coordinated between users prior to herds being present on the trail. This coordination will take place sufficiently in advance of trailing to allow for potential schedule changes between users.\
7. The BLM may provide trailing applicants with a map showing where livestock camps will or will not be authorized. Livestock camps typically will not be authorized within ¼ mile of sensitive areas such as (but not limited to): recent fire locations, recent vegetation treatments, sensitive or endangered plant species habitat, riparian and wetland areas, sage-grouse leks during the lekking period, national historic sites and some portions of the national historic trails.
8. Sheep camps will be clearly marked so different bands can be easily distinguished.
9. Trailing permits only authorize trailing on BLM administered land. Livestock operators must obtain permission to cross other public, state or private lands from the appropriate authority.”
10. Trailing must occur within ½ mile of the center line of the established trail; confining the livestock to the established trail itself is highly encouraged. Trailing on a BLM grazing allotment outside the designated boundary without permission from the permit holder will be considered unauthorized grazing use and will be dealt with according to the regulations set forth in 43 CFR 4150.
11. Any necessary supplemental feeding or watering, such as in drought or other adverse conditions, will require authorization from the BLM if located on federal land or from the private land owner or the state of Wyoming if located on private or state land. All supplemental feed on federal land needs to be certified weed free.
12. Trailing permits only authorize trailing on BLM administered federal lands within the designated trail boundaries. Livestock operators must obtain permission to cross private lands from the appropriate authority. The BLM may require proof that permission was given the permittees to cross such lands prior to authorizing a trailing permit.
13. Lambing is not allowed on the trail.

Rationale

BLM's decision is based on the following:

- The design features and mitigation measures are designed to mitigate any adverse impacts and are incorporated as part of the Proposed Action.
- This decision is based on the Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI) and is in accordance with applicable law and policy, including Federal Land Policy and Management Act (FLPMA) of 1976, as amended and Taylor Grazing Act (TGA) of 1934, as amended and supplemented. The FONSI is available online at www.blm.gov/wy/st/en/info/NEPA/documents/kfo/trailing.html. Hard copies are also available at the address above or by calling the KFO at 307-828-4500.
- This decision conforms to the KFO Resource Management Plan (KFO RMP) approved May 24, 2010 and in compliance with all the following authorities as listed below.

Authority

The analysis of the Proposed Action and No Trailing alternatives are in accordance with the following regulatory authorities, plans and agreements:

- 43 CFR 4100 – Grazing Administration
- Taylor Grazing Act of 1934, as amended and supplemented (TGA)

- Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 (FLPMA)
- Public Rangelands Improvement Act of 1978
- Noxious Weed Act of 1974
- Endangered Species Act of 1973
- National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, as amended (NEPA)
- Wyoming Standards for Healthy Rangelands and Guidelines for Livestock Grazing Management August 12, 1997
- Washington Office Instruction Memorandum No. 2012-096 Section Trailing Livestock Across Public Land dated April 10, 2012
- Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2014

Right of Protest and/or Appeal

Pursuant to the “Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2014” trailing or crossing authorizations across public lands shall not be subject to protest and/or appeal:

TRAILING LIVESTOCK ACROSS PUBLIC LANDS

SEC. 125. During fiscal years 2014 and 2015, the Bureau of Land Management may, at its sole discretion, review planning and implementation decisions regarding the trailing of livestock across public lands, including, but not limited to, issuance of crossing or trailing authorizations or permits, under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 (42 U.S.C. 4321 et seq.). Temporary trailing or crossing authorizations across public lands shall not be subject to protest and/or appeal under subpart E of part 4 of title 43, Code of Federal Regulations, and subpart 4160 of part 4100 of such title.

If you have any questions, please contact Marion Mahaffey, Rangeland Management Specialist at (307) 828-4543.

Sincerely,

Jeromy W. Caldwell
