Good day Lander BLM staffers,

My name is Bryon Lee and I am a Wyoming native who has enjoyed years of sauntering around Wyoming's magnificent BLM lands. Being raised in Campbell County, I have seen what development and industry will do to our cherished landscape. I have witness vast open space become paved and divided into tracts of land that now imprison rogue pronghorns and pushed out the sounds of the meadowlarks. I value Wyoming's landscape, it's critters, and a resource (tourism) that will be with us for many more years with your help.

Additionally, the truly mesmerizing experiences I've had in areas such as Split Rock, Dubious Badlands, and Whiskey Mountain, have kept me in Wyoming. I love BLM lands, such as these for the smell of sagebrush, the song of a meadowlark, the endless views, the yip of a coyote, and untrammelled splendor in every direction. It is this peace and quite that is worth more then leases to energy companies and trails for ATV's.

I support the BLM's plan under SD 6.1, which focuses on keeping the eight wilderness study areas (WSA) under the current management plan with the purpose to "preserve wilderness characteristics in WSA's in accordance with non-impairment standards as defined in the Interim Management Policy Under Wilderness Review (BLM 1995) until Congress either designates these lands as Wilderness." Please note that I am in support of preserving as much of these wild and scenic areas as possible.

I truly thank you for the opportunity to share my thoughts and comment on the process. Thank you for your diligent work.

Sincerely,

Bryon Lee
